

Corona Drug by Fujifilm

pwe. Tokyo. Probably already in October the Japanese Fujifilm company will apply for admission for the drug Avigan as a drug against the corona virus. Fujifilm stated on Wednesday, that a clinical trial running since March has provided positive results. The drug which is used actually by severe flu shortens the treatment time for corona patients with mild symptoms. On the clinical trial 156 patients without severe symptoms took part. Test takers who treated with Avigan showed an improvement after 11.9 days versus 14.7 days for patients who only received a placebo. It was said that the results of the study of the subsidiary Fujifilm Toyama Chemical are statistically significant. According to Japanese media reports the government in Tokyo wants to proclaim an approval for Avigans against Covid 19 within four weeks after submitting an application for approval.
